ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND (ACC)

A subordinate command of the U.S. Army Materiel Command, the U.S. Army Contracting Command (ACC) provides the Army with worldwide support by acquiring equipment, supplies and services vital to Soldiers' mission and well-being. Headquartered at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, ACC is a two-star command with two subordinate one-star commands – the Expeditionary Contracting Command – and six major contracting centers that provide support to AMC's life cycle management commands.

These centers also provide contracting support to several program executive offices and program managers supporting the U.S. Army's major acquisition programs. From food and clothing to bullets and bombs; from tanks and trucks to boats and aircraft; from their weapons to the installations where they work and live with their families, ACC ensures U.S. Soldiers have what they need to be successful.

As the Army's principal buying agent, ACC offers the contracting expertise of some of the best-trained people in the Army, ready to support the warfighter while ensuring responsible stewardship of taxpayers' funds. ACC ensures contracting support to the Soldier as mission requirements emerge and as the Army transforms and operates within the continental United States and throughout the globe. An international business enterprise, the command executed more than 146,000 contract actions in fiscal year 2015 valued at more than $53.5 billion, which is equal to 67 percent of the Army's contract dollars and 11 percent of the total dollars spent on contracts by the entire federal government. ACC accomplishes this with more than 6,000 military and civilian employees at more than 100 locations worldwide.

ECC provides effective and agile contracting service across the full spectrum of military operations for U.S. Army Service Component Commanders in support of Army and joint operations as well as to other defense organizations at locations outside the continental United States. ECC accomplishes this vital mission through nine contracting support brigades, 17 contracting battalions, and 108 contracting teams throughout the world. In fiscal 2015 ECC completed more than 28,600 contracting actions valued at more than $1.87 billion.

The MICC provides contracting support for the Soldier across Army commands, installations, and activities located throughout the continental United States and Puerto Rico. Its customers include the U.S. Army Installation Management Command, U.S. Army Forces Command, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command, U.S. Army North, U.S. Army Reserve Command, and U.S. Army Medical Command. The MICC executed more than 36,600 contract actions in fiscal 2015 valued at more than $5.17 billion.
